LULLABY AND GOODNIGHT, SLEEP SAFE BABY

A typical bedtime or napping routine for an infant includes rocking and singing their favorite song, like the ever so popular, “Lullaby and Goodnight”. What do you once baby is asleep? You want to provide a safe and nurturing environment. The goal is for every infant get the quality sleep they need to grow and develop. You may have heard of safe sleep practices. It is important to know exactly what safe sleeping arrangements are and why these practices are suggested.

The Why

Child care centers and family child care homes are not immune to the sudden and unexpected death of an infant. Sudden Unexpected Infant Death (SUID) includes both the explained and unexplained death of an infant while asleep. Infants between the ages of 2 months to 4 months are at highest risk for sleep related deaths, but SUID can occur from birth through the infants first birthday. 24% of sudden infant deaths are caused by accidental suffocation or strangulation in bed. However, the cause of many sleep related deaths are difficult for experts to determine. Despite the many unknowns, safe sleep practices decrease the risk for SUID during an infant's sleep. Anyone caring for infants must follow all of these sleep practices to keep babies safe.

Safe Sleep Arrangements

When thinking about safe sleep it is important to consider the whole environment. Use your senses when evaluating sleeping areas. What can you see or feel? Note, that if an infant falls asleep in a swing or car seat, immediately remove the infant and place him/her on their back in a safe sleep environment. Follow these recommendations when setting up a safe sleep environment:

Create a safe sleep environment

- Always place infants to sleep on their backs
- Use a firm, flat mattress with fitted sheet
- Only one infant per crib
- Dress infants lightly - room temperature should be comfortable
- Use sleep sacks in replacement of blankets
- Remove stuffed animals, bumper pads or positioning wedges
- Place cribs away from blind cords

Create a safe sleep policy

- Be sure all staff are aware of safe sleep standards
- Inform parents of your safe sleep policy, both verbally and in written form

Additional information about SUID and safe sleep practices can be found at the Center for Disease Control and Prevention and healthychildren.org. For resources on policy creation and safe sleep environments, contact Sanford CHILD Services.
